JUNE 27, 2024

9:00 - 17.00 H

II INTERNATIONAL SEMINAR

CLIMATE CHANGE AND HUMAN (IM)MOBILITY: A GENDER PERSPECTIVE

Centre d'Estudis de Dret Ambiental de Tarragona
Universitat Rovira i Virgili

The organizing committee of the upcoming II International Seminar “Climate Change and Human (Im)Mobility: A Gender Perspective” invites the entire academic community of early career researchers to submit abstracts dealing with climate-induced migration from a legal and gender perspective.

Below, we offer some ideas for contributions, which are in no way binding:

- Gender-sensitive policy recommendations to address gendered impacts of climate change on migration.
- Climate change litigation, climate-induced migration, and gender.
- Novel approaches to recognize a legal status to the emergent legal subjectivity of climate migrant/refugee/displaced.

Several keynote lectures will be delivered.

This one-day Seminar aims to be an interdisciplinary event. We particularly encourage submissions from law and political sciences PhD students and closely related disciplines.
