

CALL FOR 2 RAPPORTEURS

II INTERNATIONAL SEMINAR CLIMATE CHANGE AND HUMAN (IM)MOBILITY: A GENDER PERSPECTIVE

Activities

We are looking for two PhD students to prepare a reportership for the II International Seminar on “Climate Change and Human (Im)Mobility: A Gender Perspective.

- On-site attendance to the seminar in Tarragona and take notes.
- Write a draft report including the discussions carried out during the sessions and the main conclusions.
- Share a first draft with the organizing committee, including possible comments, and submit a final version before 27 July.

Conditions and required skills

Those interested in writing the reportership of the seminar should:

- Submit an abstract before the deadline (20 May 2024). The abstract should be accepted by the organizing committee.
- Be currently developing a PhD thesis on topics related to human mobility in the context of environmental degradation and climate change, gender studies, environmental law, or human rights.
- Not have access to economic support to attend the seminar in person.
- Not currently enjoying economic support for carrying out doctoral studies.
- Be able to develop the reportership and be willing to conduct this task properly.
- Have good oral and written communication skills in English.

Additional information

- Those interested should fulfill the abstract submission form and upload a short motivation letter (500 words max.) and a CV before 20 May 2024.

Remuneration:

- Each selected student will receive 450 € (taxes included) upon successful submission of the final report.

SUBMISSION FORM

CONTACT

francesca.rosignoli@urv.cat